

Return to In-Person Programming

System Risk Management continues to encourage postponement of Programs for Minors, particularly as we transition in August with students returning to campuses and the ramp up of operations. However, If your program chooses to reopen in-person programming, additional health and safety protocols will be expected to be put in place. These protocols include plans for social distancing, disinfection, and outbreak management. For more information reopening, please visit CPM.tamu.edu to find the Strategies for Reopening Youth Programs.

New Location for Incident Reporting

University Youth Programs has moved the Incident Report to the home page of the CPM website. You can find the form by selecting the maroon button labeled "File Incident Report" or under the Incident Reporting section on the Compliance page of the CPM Website. Remember, Incidents must be submitted to University Youth Programs within 24 hours following the incident occurring. Incidents and accidents are defined by University Rule 24.01.06.M1 as involving minor to major physical injuries of CPM Participants and/or CPM Staff, behavioral issues among participants, CPM staff, or visitors, hospital/doctor visits, or over-the-counter medication disbursement.

Updated Liability Waiver with Addition of COVID-19 Language

As of August 2020, Texas A&M has updated the Waiver, Indemnification, and Medical Treatment Authorization form to include a section acknowledging the risk related to COVID-19 and the parent's responsibility of monitoring their child prior to and during their attendance at camp. This form can now be found on the CPM Website on the Compliance page and attached to this email.
